Spirit of Golf Practices, Skills, and Techniques:

We are pleased to announce a weekend intensive "Train the Trainers Workshop and Players Clinic" for those interested in learning and sharing the mind/body skills and techniques we offer through Spirit of Golf.

This two-and-one-half day intensive workshop is geared toward instructors and coaches who want to share with their students and teams the pioneering mind/body skills and techniques that we teach through Spirit of Golf.

We also strongly encourage those who are serious about self-improvement to attend this event.

In this workshop, we will combine the foundational principles of Spirit of Golf with on-course practice and play. The program will be taught by Tim N. Kremer, M.A., a sports performance consultant/coach and president and founder of Spirit of Golf.

The weekend begins mid-day Friday, January 20, 2012 and concludes Sunday afternoon (an agenda is available on the Spirit of Golf website). This program has been intentionally scheduled the weekend before the PGA Merchandise Show in Orlando, FL to allow interested PGA pros to attend both events.

On both days, we will move from the classroom to a local golf course (to be determined) for hands-on skill development and practice and play. Please note that extended sessions will be conducted on both Friday and Saturday evenings.

The classroom portion will be held at the Courtyard by Marriott in Stuart off I-95. Room reservations are available online or by calling the Courtyard by Marriott at (772) 781-3344.

Class size is limited to 15. Additionally, 16 MSR certification points are available for PGA members for this event.
